1The prepositional phrase, “in the name of Yhwh,” may very well be modifying the ptc, such that the clause could also read: “Those who were prophesying in the name of Yhwh prophesied. . . .”

2The preposition אֶל usually means “to, unto,” but this English sense doesn’t quite fit with the meaning of הָיָה in the Hith, “to seek/implore favor.” So, either you paraphrase the preposition (“to seek favor of”), or you tweak the meaning of the verb to allow for a preposition which indicates motion toward (“to make a petition of favor toward/unto”).
